

Herbert W. Franke: Border-crosser between Science and Art

A conversation with Peter Tepe | Section: Summary

Herbert W. Franke is in many ways a border-crosser between science and art: He is a scientist (a physicist and speleologist), artist (in the visual arts and as an author) and art theorist – a case of particular interest to w/k. Part 1 of the interview focuses on the scientist and the visual artist. Part 2 will follow in the coming months.

▷ Click here to see the article that is only available in the German w/k.

Picture above the text: H.W. Franke (2017). Foto: space press.